

ANGUILLA'S NATIONAL COUNTER-TERRORISM, TERRORIST FINANCING AND PROLIFERATION FINANCING STRATEGIC PLAN

January 2023

The Anguilla National Anti-Money Laundering Committee (“ANAMLC”), through the Financial Intelligence Unit, has taken the coordination responsibility for devising Anguilla’s National Counter-Terrorism, Terrorist Financing or Proliferation Financing Strategic Plan.

SCOPE

Terrorism, terrorist financing and proliferation financing all have negative impacts on the overall growth and development of the country. This is especially the case for smaller jurisdictions like Anguilla where there is a reliance on external factors to sustain the nation's fragile economic industry. A possible attack on a country for diplomatic, clandestine or other reasons would have a drastic effect on the people and nation. The assessed threat of a terrorist attack, terrorist financing or proliferation is low for Anguilla. This national plan calls for the preparedness of all stakeholders to come together to use information, financial intelligence, law enforcement agencies and all other powers to seek to prepare, prevent, protect and pursue to defeat terrorist financing and proliferation financing, as well as having dynamic approach to emerging threats. This national plan therefore provides direction for the coordination and implementation of strategic and operational initiatives to combat terrorist financing, proliferation financing, terrorism and the movement of terrorist fighters within the jurisdiction of Anguilla. The implementation of this strategy is built on the principals of the four (4) pillars model as described by the United Nations Global Counter Terrorism Strategy. It will be utilized by the competent authorities as a measure to detect and deter possible threats to Anguilla.

DEFINITIONS

Anguilla National Anti-Money laundering Committee (“ANAMLC”)

The ANAMLC is responsible for coordinating and developing an efficient and robust Anti-Money Laundering, Countering Terrorist Financing and Proliferation Financing (AML/CFT and PF) regime, which will protect national and global interests while ensuring compliance and effectiveness to international standards relevant to AML/CFT and combating the proliferation of weapons.

Foreign Terrorist Fighters

An individual who leaves his or her country of origin or habitual residence to join a non-state armed group in an armed conflict abroad and who is primarily motivated by ideology, religion and/or kinship.

Proliferation Financing

Proliferation financing is defined by the FATF as “the act of providing funds or financial services used for the manufacture, acquisition, possession, development, export, trans-shipment, brokering, transport, transfer, stockpiling or use of nuclear, chemical or biological weapons and their means of delivery and related materials (including both technologies and dual-use goods used for non-legitimate purposes), in contravention of national laws or, where applicable, international obligations.”¹

Terrorism

“‘terrorism’ means the use or threat of action where—

- (a) (i) the action falls within sub-paragraph (b),
 - (ii) the use or threat is designed to influence the government or to intimidate the public or a section of the public, and
 - (iii) the use or threat is made for the purpose of advancing a political, religious or ideological cause;
- (b) action falls within this sub-paragraph if it—

- (i) involves serious violence against a person,
 - (ii) involves serious damage to property,
 - (iii) endangers a person's life, other than that of the person committing the action,
 - (iv) creates a serious risk to the health or safety of the public or a section of the public, or
 - (v) is designed seriously to interfere with or seriously to disrupt an electronic system;
- (c) the use or threat of action falling within sub-paragraph (b) which involves the use of firearms or explosives is terrorism whether or not sub-paragraph (a) (ii) is satisfied;
- (d) in sub-paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) —
- (i) “action” includes action outside the Territory,

 - (iii) a reference to the public includes a reference to the public of a territory or country other than that of the Territory,
 - (iv) “the government” means the government of the Territory, of a part of the Territory or of a territory or country other than the Territory;²

Terrorist Financing

Terrorist financing is the collection or the provision of funds (including instrumentalities) for terrorist purposes, which can originate from both legal and illegal sources. The primary goal of individuals or entities involved in the financing of terrorism is therefore not necessary to conceal the sources of the money but to conceal both the funding activity and the nature of the funded activity.³

It also ensures that Anguilla and its competent authorities are capable of utilizing the relevant legislation(s) and policies to prevent, investigate and prosecute incidents of terrorist financing, proliferation financing, terrorism and movement of terrorist fighters. Through this plan, authorities will seek to provide reassurance to the public that relevant authorities hold the capacity to protect the lives and the way of life of the Anguillian communities.

In context of this document, the following strategic objectives have been identified as areas required to be met by the competent authorities or agencies within Anguilla:

1. the development of resources and competencies among the relevant government authorities and/or competent agencies geared towards deterring, preventing or protecting Anguilla from terrorist attacks, acts of terrorism, movement of terrorist fighters and financing of proliferation;
2. the operationalization of the competent authorities to achieve the goal or aim of deterring, preventing or protecting Anguilla from terrorist attacks, acts of terrorism, movement of terrorist fighters and financing proliferation;
3. the modernization of the borders, transportation facilities and the areas designated as major infrastructure and national assets/critical infrastructure and/or key installation sites;
4. to protect the citizens of Anguilla and their property;
5. the promotion of an understanding, respect and tolerance of varying values, human rights, gender equality and ethnicity and religious differences with the aim of preventing the social inequality or the radicalism of persons living in Anguilla;
6. improving communication and coordination of competent authorities, by building teams who adequately and effectively respond (i.e. to react against extremists and all persons who provide the extremists with the logistical, financial and every other kind of support);
7. improve national, regional and international cooperation in the effort to combat a terrorist attack, acts of terrorism, movement of terrorist fighters, financing proliferation, money laundering and financing of terrorism;

8. to prosecute persons for terrorist attacks, acts of terrorism, movement of terrorist fighters, financing proliferation, money laundering and financing of terrorism and persons who provide support to them (whether it be logistic or financial); and
9. to conduct robust cash and/or asset recovery investigations against all perpetrators.

OVERVIEW OF TERRORISM, TERRORIST FINANCING AND PROLIFERATION FINANCING ANGUILLA

Anguilla is a small island with a tightly knit population⁴ and a relatively low level of petty and serious crime. The overall risk assessment money laundering and terrorist financing for the jurisdiction was published in February 2023 and covered the period between 2014 to 2020. There are very few offences committed on the island by the local populace that would generate substantial monies or profits from crime which could be used to finance terrorist activity. Drug dealing on the island is not uncommon but in nature, is low level and because of the number of persons engaged in it, the market is flooded, thus, the profit gleaned by individuals involved is not substantial.

The limitations of the personal taxation regime create difficulty in estimating and monitoring the extent of tax evasion and avoidance as well as undeclared income which may be linked to criminality. Cash generated from domestic criminality, with the odd exception, tends to be spent supplementing day to day living costs. There is no evidence of this cash being used to acquire property, jewellery or other assets in most cases. The proceeds from these small-scale crimes are not introduced within the financial system.

The structure of company formation and incorporation coupled with anonymity has contributed to an attractive offshore financial industry in Anguilla. International Business Companies (IBC) can be incorporated by company service providers in Anguilla without the requirement to publicly register shareholders, directors etc. However, with this comes several challenges as we aim to protect Anguilla from the threat or risk of criminality. Overtime, IBC's have been established to operate forex and binary option trading platforms in Europe and Israel. There is also evidence that indicates that IBC's and, in some instances, companies struck off from the commercial registry are being used to hold financial interest outside of Anguilla. Overall, we recognise that this financial service opportunity also poses questions regarding the vulnerability of exposure to terrorist financing from global existing and emerging threats. Working in partnership with key stakeholders, Anguilla will dynamically and continually assess this area of terrorist financing risk.

The biggest perceived threat or risk countries to come from abuses of the offshore industry in relation to mutual funds, trusts, IBC's, etc. The Government of Anguilla has undertaken to provide the necessary resources and upgrade of the overall AML/CFT regime within the country. In so doing, the Proceeds of Crime Act, Revised Statute of Anguilla, P98 along with its attendant Regulations⁵ and Code⁶ have been substantially amended to address deficiencies in the reporting requirements and to improve sanctions so that the sanctions are proportionate and dissuasive. These amendments, as well as the passage of new legislation, also allowed for the accountability of all reporting sectors. Furthermore, there was the establishment of the FIU as a separate Governmental department with various remits, one of which includes the investigations of terrorism, terrorist financing and proliferation financing matters. Additionally, in 2022, the passage of the Business Companies Act, 2022 repealed and replace the International Business Companies Act and established a new framework which handles the registration, operation and regulation of the companies registered in Anguilla. The passage of the Business Companies Act, 2022 addresses the shortcomings identified with the IBCs. As such a reassessment of the overall terrorist financing risk of the jurisdiction will be conducted in 2023 to reflect the jurisdiction's action to mitigate the risk associated with terrorist financing.

To date there have been no known or reported acts of terrorism, terrorist financing, proliferation financing and movement of terrorist fighter crimes or offences within Anguilla. The assessed risk of terrorism or terrorist financing is deemed to be medium based on the National Risk Assessment. The same risk rating was also attributable to proliferation financing. While there has been no reported matters or cases investigated or prosecuted, there does exist some risk as it relates to the use of the Anguilla legal structures and arrangements.

⁶ Anti-Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing Code, Revised Regulations of Anguilla, P98-5

The list below is of all the national assets/critical infrastructure and or key installation sites, which has been identified as possible areas where a terrorist attack is possible;

- Clayton J. Lloyd International Airport, Wallblake,
- Road Bay Port, Sandy Ground,
- Blowing Point Port, Blowing Point,
- Governor's Office, Old Ta,
- Governor's Residence, Sea Feathers
- Government Offices housed in the former National Bank of Anguilla Building,
- Government Offices along Parliament Drive, Anguilla (including the Magistrate's Court, High Court and House of Assembly),
- Police Headquarters and all sub-stations,
- National Commercial Bank of Anguilla, 1st St. Mary Street, The Valley,

Terrorism in the Caribbean

The Caribbean is becoming vulnerable as the effects of globalisation and tourism make the region susceptible to possibility of terrorist attacks or the delivery of ideological beliefs with a view to have new recruits. United Nations representative Richard Bluwitt warned that terrorists are seeking new vulnerable targets, especially in tourism sectors.⁷ Additionally, the former Executive Director of CARICOM's Crime and Security Agency, Mr. Francis Forbes noted that the following as possible terrorism issues that will affect the Caribbean into the foreseeable future:

1. Online recruitment of persons through social media and with the use of online propaganda.
2. Potential violence from returning terrorist fighters to Caribbean states.

⁷ <http://www.guardian.co.tt/lifestyle/2017-06-29/how-could-terrorism-affect-caribbean>

3. Lone wolf threat travelling to Caribbean states to carry out terrorist acts or recruitment.
4. Potential divisiveness of returning terrorist fighters.
5. Blurred lines between extremism and gang culture.
6. Prison being used as a breeding ground for radicalisation.

As such, nations in the Caribbean must be cautious and proactive in their approach to mitigate and combat terrorism, terrorist financing and proliferation financing. The development of an overarching strategic plan is therefore the first step to reducing Anguilla's threat and vulnerability to terrorism, terrorist financing and proliferation financing. Additionally, there is a need to prioritise human and technical resources to treat with or mitigate any emerging terrorist financing and proliferation financing threats.

Anguilla will seek to administer its national counter terrorism strategic plan, by adopting the methodology of the four (4) pillars of the United Nations Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy as described in Schedule 1.

Schedule 1

THE UNITED NATION'S GLOBAL COUNTER-TERRORISM STRATEGY – THE 4 PILLARS - PREVENT, PURSUE, PROTECT AND PREPARE

The United Nation's Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy "is composed of four pillars⁹: addressing the conditions conducive to the spread of terrorism; preventing and combating terrorism; building states' capacity to prevent and combat terrorism....; and ensuring respect for human rights for all and the rule of law as the fundamental basis of the fight against terrorism"¹⁰.

United Nation's Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy

Pillar I - Prepare

The jurisdiction should ensure that preparatory measures are put in place to create an environment that is not conducive to the spread of terrorism. Preparation includes having the appropriate policies and procedures in place, conducting regular training and access to adequate resources to counter a possible or likely terrorist attack, terrorist financing or proliferation financing.

⁹<https://www.un.org/counterterrorism/ctitf/en/un-global-counter-terrorism-strategy>

¹⁰ <https://icct.nl/event/united-nations-holds-third-biennial-review-of-global-counter-terrorism-strategy/#:~:text=The%20Strategy%20is%20composed%20of,for%20all%20and%20the%20rule>

Pillar II - Prevent

The prevention and combating of terrorist acts by stopping people from becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism. This will require the use of intelligence and other data driven analysis that will assist in creating the most adequate and appropriate programs to achieve the objective.

Pillar III - Pursue

It is important to pursue all available operational and strategic resources to stop terrorist attacks within the jurisdiction. There will be a need to build and develop state capacity while strengthening the role of each agency in Anguilla to combat terrorism, terrorist financing and proliferation financing. Efforts must be made to pursue and track suspected terrorists domestically or internationally. Thus, partnership and cooperation with foreign law enforcement agencies is imperative.

Pillar IV - Protect

Ensuring human rights and the rule of law are adhered to is paramount in the development of the strategic plan. Thus the jurisdiction should utilize all available resources to strengthen the ability to protect against a terrorist attack. Therefore, all policies and procedures developed and implemented by competent authorities should ensure that appropriate legislative applications and fundamental rights are captured/included/satisfied.
